30/09/25	16:30 – 17:30	Secondary	A literacy focused approach in English in Secondary How do we develop literacy effectively in Secondary? What do we expect our students to be able to do in English by the end of ESO and how do we help them get there? In this webinar we will look at the text-based approach of BEP, and how this is the basis for teachers to develop pupil confidence, competence and fluency in both spoken and written English in a variety of contexts and for a variety of purposes. We'll also look at tools to help you plan for meaningful and inclusive learning outcomes, which encourage learner autonomy and reflection. Register here
01/10/25	16:30 – 17:30	Secondary	Literacy across the curriculum (Secondary) Who is responsible for teaching literacy? As teachers, what do we need to consider in terms of language demands in our subjects to effectively support knowledge building in science and social sciences? In order to succeed, pupils need to be given the tools to produce high quality work and access complex information. In this webinar we'll look at how literacy development affects pupil outcomes across the curriculum as well as how different subject areas support literacy development. We'll also be focusing on the importance of working together and having a coordinated approach to teaching literacy both in English and across the curriculum. Register here

02/10/25	16:30 – 17:30	Early Years	Our integrated approach in BEP Early Years This session will help teachers in Early Years to understand our integrated approach and how to implement it successfully. We will look at relevant recommendations from last year's Review and capture what good classroom practice looks like. We will also look at the guidelines for Early Years and how to plan meaningful and engaging topic webs based around a story, with a particular focus on mediation , oracy and quality talk and how this is underpins successful learning and development. Register here
07/10/25	16:30 – 17:30	Primary	Teaching literacy in Primary – our approach What is a good literacy outcome and how do we get our pupils to produce one? What are they aiming for and what do they need along the way? A literacy-based approach has underpinned how we teach English and Literacy in BEP Primary schools since the Programme began. In this session we will take a fresh look at why this approach is effective and what good classroom practice looks like. We will look at relevant recommendations from the Review, remind ourselves of the guidelines for Primary and really home in on how to plan meaningful and engaging literacy outcomes using our new literacy planning tool. Register here
