Welcome!

Welcome to LearnEnglish Exams from the British Council. This website is for you to use in support of your in-class lessons to help your students become fully prepared for their B2 First, B2 First for Schools and C1 Advanced exams.

How the website is structured

There are two levels of content: Succeed at B2 First and Succeed at C1 Advanced. Your students will have access to the level according to the exam they have registered for.

The material for each level is organised by exam section: Listening, Reading, Use of English, Writing, and Speaking. Within each section, there is an overview of that part of the exam for students, which informs them about the types and the number of questions and how long each part of the test will last. There are also some tips for students, with some links they can access for self-study and practice.

For the Reading, Use of English and Listening sections, then follows information about each part of the exam paper with strategies, examples, practice exercises and reflection activities to help your students understand why the correct answers are correct and thus improve next time.

- You can read an overview of the exam format and how each paper is assessed. Click on 'Overview of B2 First' or 'Overview of C1 Advanced'

Teaching Tips

More reading, more confidence!

To help prepare your students for the Reading and Use of English paper, the best thing you can do is encourage their reading on a broad range of topics and from a number of different text types. At Advanced level, you should be encouraging reading beyond the coursebook texts, and including authentic material such as fiction, non-fiction, magazines and website articles in their reading programme. Finding reading material on a topic of interest for your students can help motivate them to read outside of the class. Reading for interest and pleasure on a wide range of topics from a range of different sources, without simply doing exam practice tasks, will boost your students' reading confidence as well as develop their vocabulary and increase their awareness of different language structures.

Activities to try:

- Reviewing a book / story / article
- Asking students to find an article connected to a particular theme (their hobby for instance) and reporting back
- Giving a short talk on a text they read at home to the rest of the class / group
- Reading an interesting news article at home and then groups of students present their 'news broadcast' to the rest of the class

- You can view a list of your students that have access to the website. Click on 'Schools Area' and then click on 'My students'.
