A Higher Education

Over 10% of world leaders studied in the land of Shakespeare

The UK is home to 4 of the top ranked world-wide universities and a recent report outlines that over 10% of world leaders received a British Education. It is no wonder that the UK attracts over 500,000 international students each year and over 9,500 from Spain. Students value the top-quality teaching, innovative methodology, a truly international experience and of course, the opportunity to perfect their English.

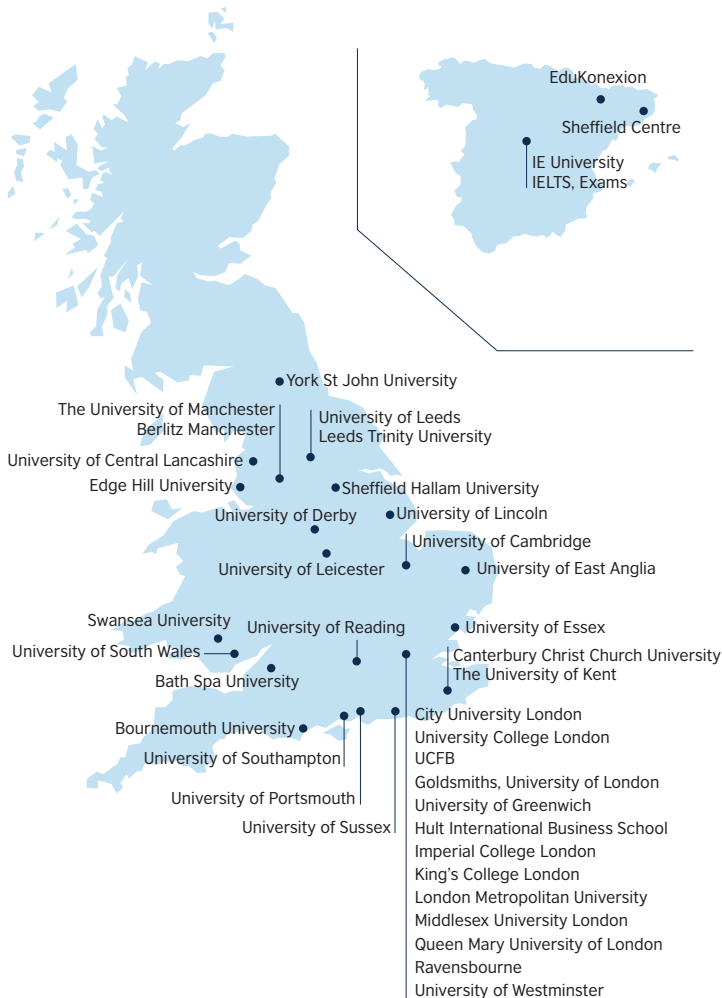

Studying at a UK university might be easier than you think. Entry requirements vary from course to course and from university to university. Access to your chosen degree programme may be possible with an average of 6.5 in Bachillerato and IELTS. Look into the requirements for what you want to study. UK Government loans can help with funding your undergraduate studies and students from Spain may be eligible to apply for a range of scholarships offered at their chosen university.

Studying in the UK will provide you with the opportunity to become more independent, explore your own creativity and become truly international. It is an educational offer that cannot be matched anywhere else in the world.

Our “Education Passport” will help you make the most of your visit to the Fair. Inside you will find out which universities specialise in the studies you are most interested in.

We hope you too will start your journey as a world leader by studying in the UK!

Architecture, Design and Urbanism

University College London

Architecture, Design and Urbanism:

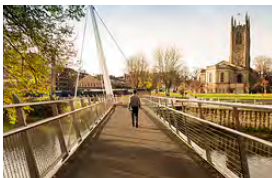

The Bartlett Faculty of the Built Environment is the UK's largest and leading multidisciplinary faculty of the built environment, covering architecture, planning, construction and project management, development planning and environmental design as well as many other specialist fields. As one of the leading architecture schools in the world we attract the highest calibre of staff and students.

www.ucl.ac.uk

University of Derby

Architecture: We're one the oldest standing accredited courses by Chartered Institute of Architectural Technologists in the UK, gaining its original accreditation back in 1997. You can be sure that you will be getting the latest industry thinking, as well as a recognised professional qualification, that will offer a real advantage over other candidates in the job market. This course gives you excellent career prospects, both in the public and private sectors. You'll develop the skills and confidence to work in architectural practice, or specialise to work for example in consultancy, government, property development and building contracting.
